RICHLAND COUNTY COMMUNITY SERVICES BUILDING CLOSES TO THE PUBLIC AT 4:30PM

Richland Center, WI: Starting Tuesday, September 8th the Richland County Community Services Building will be reducing the office hours that they are open to the public. The current office hours are 8am to 5pm and these hours will be adjusted to opening at 8am and closing at 4:30pm Monday through Friday. The County Board approved this schedule adjustment during their August meeting in an effort to have this building reflect the same public office hours as the Richland County Courthouse.

The Richland County Community Services Building, located at 221 W. Seminary Street in Richland Center, houses all programs and services of the Richland County Department of Health & Human Services including the Aging & Disability Resource Center, the Richland County Department of Management Information Systems, the Richland County Administrator, and the Richland County Coroner. Various programs or services will operate later into the evening by appointment only by calling (608) 647-8821. Emergency services continue to be available afterhours, as well as on weekends and holidays, by calling (888) 552-6642 for Behavioral Health concerns or call (608) 647-2106 for child abuse or neglect concerns.
